You have Three Software Options

Whether you require Desktop Software, real-time, Internet Software, International, Multi-Currency, Multi-Warehouse Software, Source Code on your servers, Tools, Training Systems or Marketing Systems, chances are we already have it.

One of the most challenging aspects of managing a multilevel marketing company is software. Software not only includes the system itself, but more importantly the willingness of the development company to support you after the sale. We know what MLM software users, including company owners, distributors and customers, need and expect. We also know what is realistic with respect to support from the company side.

How Long to Launch?

Find out how we can have you in business, signing up distributors, viewing genealogies and selling the same day in as little as 10 minutes. The success of software development depends on a clear understanding of a company's business objectives and functional requirements for the application. This is why we focus heavily on the "discovery" phase of the development process, where we capture your application ideas and goals.

There are as many reasons to use our services as there are companies. MLM companies worldwide are finding that strategic relationships are critical to competitive success. With respect to software, some of the benefits of working with MultiSoft Corporation are:

- Ease There is no need to recruit, hire or train new employees.
- Economy You incur no overhead costs. MultiSoft Corporation provides its own facilities, systems, bandwidth and so on.
- Confidence When working with an established technology partner like MultiSoft Corporation, you can be sure your software projects are completed on time, on budget and to spec.
- Synergy For larger projects, MultiSoft Corporation offers you a team of developers who have already proven themselves time and time again. Your organization avoids the personality clashes, communication problems and other obstacles that make building a successful development team challenging.
- Flexibility You can scale our involvement in your projects however you wish and whenever you wish.
- Expertise Instantly tap into our developers' extensive, real-world experience in key technologies like Visual Basic, C#, C++, ASP, ASP.NET, Web Services, XML, SOAP, SQL and more.
- Simplicity You eliminate expenses related to retention of employees, including insurance, worker's compensation, social security and company-provided benefits.
- Focus Using us to design and develop your software allows your organization to focus on its own core competencies.
